Factoids for the week of July 26th - 30th

Monday, July 26, 2010

The number of bank failures in the U.S. climbed to 103 this year following the announcement of seven bank seizures last Friday, according to USA TODAY. There were only 64 closures at this point last year. The number of bank failures in 2007, 2008, and 2009 totaled three, 25, and 140, respectively. The number of banks on the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's (FDIC) "problem" list spiked from 702 in Q4'09 to 775 in Q1'10. The FDIC expects the cost of resolving failed banks to total about $60 billon from 2010 through 2014.

Tuesday, July 27, 2010

State tax revenue rose 2.5% in Q1'10, according to the Rockefeller Institute of Government. While the bump is encouraging inflows remain well below prerecession levels. There were 80 state and local sales tax increases imposed across the country in Q2'10, compared to just 11 decreases, according to Kiplinger. Fifty-five of the 80 tax hikes were imposed by cities. The only state to raise its sales tax was Arizona, which bumped it from 5.6% to 6.6%. On top of escalating sales taxes, states, counties, municipalities and districts initiated 40 new taxes in Q2'10, according to Thomson Reuters. Today, 33 states are forecasting a collective shortfall of $72 billion for fiscal year 2012.

Wednesday, July 28, 2010

Worldwide PC shipments were up 22.4% (y-o-y) in Q2'10, according to International Data Corporation (IDC) Worldwide Quarterly PC Tracker. Shipments totaled 81.5 million units, up from 66.6 million in Q2'09. Desktop PC shipments exceeded expectations for the second quarter in a row. The strong showing confirms that businesses are upgrading an aging installed base. Demand softened a bit in the consumer sector. Hewlett-Packard held the top spot with an 18.1% share of the market. Dell (13.0%) and Acer Group (12.6%) rounded out the top three.

Thursday, July 29, 2010

As of the close of trading on July 27, 662 U.S. companies had reported Q2 earnings with a beat rate of 71.1%, according to Bespoke Investment Group. The average beat rate has been 62% since 1998. The beat rate for the companies in the S&P 500 was 78.8%. The sector with the highest beat rate so far is Consumer Discretionary at 80.6%. Investors may find that stat somewhat surprising considering the recent decline in consumer confidence and growing concerns about the possibility of a double-dip recession. The other nine sectors performed (beat rates) as follows: Industrials (79.8%); Consumer Staples (76.2%), Information Technology (75.8%); Health Care (70.3%); Materials (69.4%); Financials (60.3%); Telecom (60.0%).

Friday, July 30, 2010

Money market mutual fund assets totaled $2.97 trillion as of July 21, down from $3.66 trillion at the same point a year ago, according to the Investment Company Institute (ICI). Strategic Insight reported that investors redeemed $502 billion from money market funds in the first half of 2010, up from $176 billion in the first half of 2009, according to SmartMoney.com. The average taxable money market funds just 0.04%, according to iMoneyNet.com. Many vendors have been waiving fees in this low-rate climate. Money market funds waived close to $2.5 billion in expenses in the first half of 2010, according to the ICI. The industry waived a total of $3.6 billion in fees in 2009.
